

CV Feedback and Advice

After many years as recruiters, gatekeepers and CV decision makers, we are delighted to be able to share the secrets of successful CV writing, and offer value for money, personalised feedback and advice for your CV. We will help you understand what you need to be shortlisted for interview.

How we help

We review your CV in line with a job advert or ideal role you are seeking, provide written feedback and suggest improvements. We will help you make sure your CV is:

In line with modern CV writing practices
Structured and presented the best it can be Tailored to your situation
Memorable and stands out
Contains an effective personal statement

Once you have made the suggested changes, we review your final CV a second time. We also provide further written guidance materials and hints with covering letters.

Who do we help?

School or university leavers entering the job market for the first time
People looking for a career change, needing to demonstrate transferable skills
People who have been made redundant or been out of work
People who are struggling to secure interviews
People who have not written or refreshed their CV in a long time
People who are returning to the workplace after a career break

What does it cost?

We charge £75 plus VAT for two separate reviews of your CV, plus written feedback, suggestions and further guidance materials.

We request payment before commencing work.
